ONLY ONE ROAD MAY BE CONSTRUCTED

Into Mayfield, It is Believed by Many Citizens.

The L. & N. Expected to Take Over the Other When It is Finished.

MAYFIELD IS ON A BOOM NOW.

"We shall have a railroad from Mayfield to Cairo by next December," said Editor W. K. Wall, of the Mayfield Monitor, who was in the city today. "The promoters of the road have about secured all of the rights of way, and have commenced their arrangements for the necessary money all right, and active construction work will start the first of April."

Mr. Wall does not think there will be two roads built from Mayfield to Cairo, but the L. & N. road will eventually take over the other road, which is being promoted by L. W. Goode, of New York and Mayfield capitalists, and span out the road over to the N. C. & St. L. tracks four miles south of Murray. The work will be rushed to have the tracks laid to Mayfield by December, as the road has to be constructed to that point by that time to get the $40,000 Mayfield will give the road. "We are booming in Mayfield," said Mr. Wall "and expect to double our population in five years."

Jackson, Ky., March 15.—Capt. B. J. Ewen, one of the gamest men in the mountains, and the star witness in the Hawks feud trials, was made to take water today for the first time in his life.

Watkins got the drop on the officers and after putting Smith to flight, compelled Capt. Ewen to go down on his knees and beg for his life. At the point of Smith's pistol, Capt. Ewen was then allowed to go his way.

Harry Graham, White. Was Fooling With a Pistol.

It Was Discharged and the Bellboy Was Hit—He Exonerated Graham Before He Died.

GRAHAM IS BEING HELD.

Harry Graham, white, accidentally shot "Babe", a bell boy at the Fulton hotel in Fulton Tuesday night, and the boy died yesterday from the wound.

The negro had a pistol and wanted to show it to Graham, who went to his room. While Graham was toying with the weapon it was discharged, the ball entering the abdomen. Graham was so startled by the shot that he pulled the trigger the second time but the bullet struck the ceiling.

An operation was performed on the negro and the bullet was found to have passed through his liver and lodged in the muscles of his back. "Babe" made a death-bed statement exonerating Graham from blame.

Graham is being held pending an investigation but it is presumed the negro's statement will exonerate him.

PLAN ON FOOT TO PAY A GOOD SALARY

To the President of the Board of Public Works Here.

He Will Be Required to Give All His Time to the Work, It Is Carried.

A NEW RULE FOR THE COUNCIL

A suggestion has been made to some of the members of the general council that the president of the board of public works be required to give all of his time to the city's business, and to make the salary of the office such as to compensate that official for doing so.

The advocates of the idea say that the council was considering creating the office of city buyer at an expense of $1,200 a year, but the idea was given up because it was found that he would have very little to buy, the board of works, and the police and firemen boards insisting on making all the purchases for these departments. That the duties of this office could be added to those of the president of the board of works who could make all the purchase for that board and the other departments of the city, whose duty it would be to give all of his attention to the direction of all city work, in connection with the other city officials under whose department it came; to prepare all plans for improvements, and make the estimates of the probable cost of all improvements.

President E. P. Noble of the board of works, thinks the idea is a splendid one. "I expect to go out of office in a very short time," he said today, when asked about it, "so I can speak more freely on the proposition than I otherwise should. I think it is the thing to do by all means, and I know, from our experience, that such an official would save the city more than his salary. You have no idea of the scope and variety of work that this board has to do, and of the demands it makes on the members' time. Last week we held four meetings, which is just a slight evidence of the time it requires, and of course we cannot give the matters the consideration a man whose duty it is to devote all of his time to the work, could."

"Such an official should take all the detail work off the board, get up all the plans or direct their preparation, furnish the proper estimates in detail and work, hand in hand, with all the different city departments. The other two members of the board would be a check on his work, and with such an organization the work the board would do would be far more satisfactory, in every way, than under the present plan."

"Of course, this official should be a man in every way competent for such a position, and such a man would save the city his salary several times over. Paducah is a big, growing city now, and needs the most effective administrative work possible to secure, and this is one of the very best means to that end."

New Councilmanic Rule.

Members of the council are thinking of establishing a new rule to facilitate the passage of ordinances. Under the present method, or rule, it is sometimes six weeks before an ordinance becomes a law unless special sessions are held and these are always costly.

In Lexington the council boards, when they have up an ordinance they wish to pass through quickly, adopt it on its first meeting and adjourn for ten minutes or so, and then are called in session again by the mayor, which is due form, and pass it on the second reading. This is probably what will be done in the boards here as many members deplore the time lost now in passing ordinances.

Paducah Streets Cleaner Than Chicago's.

"Paducah's streets are cleaner, and in a far better condition in every way than Chicago's," said President E. P. Noble, of the board of public works today. Mr. Noble has just returned from a trip to Chicago. "I saw last fall's snows lying on the streets yet in a slushy, muddy composition and dirt lying around in great heaps. Paducah's streets look very clean in comparison."

The board of works will take up the street cleaning proposition, for

THE CONGRESSIONAL PRIMARY JUNE 9TH

Meeting of Democratic District Committee Today Was Brief.

If Only One Candidate April 3, He Will Be the Nominee—All But One County Represented.

COL. AYRES FOR FIRE MARSHAL

The First Congressional District Democratic committee met this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the parlors of the Palmer house and decided to call a primary election on June 9th for the purpose of selecting a Democratic nominee for congress from the First district.

The counties were all represented except one or two, and the meeting lasted only a few minutes, long enough to adopt a resolution relative to the primary and to endorse Col. Mott Ayres for the position of fire marshal for the state, a new office just created.

The meeting was called to order by Col. Mott Ayres, chairman, and Mr. Robert Armistead, of the News-Democrat, was elected secretary. The roll call showed the following present: R. L. (Bob) Smith, Hickman county; Clem Niun, Crittenden; Pete Seay, Graves; J. B. Trail, Livingston; Mott Ayres, Fulton; W. A. Berry, McCracken; Conn Linn, Calloway; Thomas Smith, Lyon. Proxies were held for Caldwell, Trigg, Marshall and Carlisle and Ballard was not represented.

Committeeman Berry, of McCracken, offered a resolution fixing a primary election for June 9th, 1906, for the purpose of selecting a nominee for the office of congressman from the First district. The resolution provided that in event but one candidate has paid in his fee by April 3, the primary is to be declared off, and Chairman Mott Ayres is to call a meeting of the district committee at Princeton at 1 o'clock p. m. on the 7th of April to declare this one candidate the nominee. The resolution carried with it instructions relative to investigations into the costs of the primary, etc. It was unanimously adopted.

Committeeman Smith, of Hickman county, made a motion to endorse Col. Mott Ayres for the office of state fire marshal and the motion was unanimously and enthusiastically adopted.

There being no further business before the committee adjournment was taken, the meeting having lasted less than ten minutes.

Congressman Ollie James is in the city but was not present during the meeting.

Will Judge Lightfoot Run?

It is said that County Judge R. T. Lightfoot's ears are being treated to the musical humming of the congressional bee and that he is thinking seriously of running for congress on the Democratic ticket. He was seen this morning directly after the meeting of the First congressional district committee which fixed the date of a primary, but made no denial or confirmation of the report.

"You just say that I neither deny nor affirm the report," Judge Lightfoot stated when asked a point blank question as to his intention. It is known that his many friends are urging him to make the race and that he has been considering it rather seriously. The only known candidate among the Democrats so far is the incumbent, Hon. Ollie James, of Marion, but there is plenty of time in which to decide.

Judge Lightfoot when asked if his friends were not pressing him to run, stated that he could not deny this, but would rather have nothing said about the matter, that he preferred it to drop.

The majority for the law was six votes, nearly 1,100 votes being polled in the seven wards.

COURT OF APPEALS DECIDES NEW POINT

City is Sometimes Responsible for Mistakes of Its Councilmen.

Contractor Is Not Required to Know Whether or Not an Ordinance Is Legal.

FIRST DECISION OF ITS KIND.

The reversal yesterday of the McCracken circuit court in the case of R. C. Terrell against the city of Paducah seems to have decided a new point, if local attorneys have guessed correctly. Until the opinion is received, however, it is not known whether their surmises are correct or not.

Contractor E. C. Terrell secured a contract a few years ago for improving Washington street from First street to the river. An ordinance had been passed for the improvement, but it seems that provision for sidewalks had been overlooked and the ordinance under which Contractor Terrell secured the contract said nothing about sidewalks.

When the improvement was finished Mr. Terrell became involved in a controversy and had to go into court to collect the money due him for his work.

The main objection was that the ordinance was invalid, that it was a botch, inasmuch as the city had left nothing for sidewalks, when the law expressly requires that there shall always be left room for sidewalks in street improvements.

The McCracken circuit court heard the evidence and rendered judgment against the machine ways company and the elevator company for the regular width of the street, but declined to give Mr. Terrell a judgment for the additional grading and graveling he had done over the portion that should have been sidewalks.

He then sued the city, and the city came in and claimed that it was not liable for any part of the improvement as, if the ordinance providing for the improvement was invalid, the contractor should have known it and not done any work under it. That it was as much his duty to know whether it was constitutional or not as the city's. The McCracken circuit court sustained this contention of the city, and Attorneys Hagby & Martin took an appeal. They contended that a contractor had no means of determining the constitutionality of an ordinance in advance, and that he was justified in presuming that city officials had done their duty and complied with the law in passing the ordinance, and that it was constitutional and that he was safe in proceeding with work under it. That if the contention of the city was correct, no contractor could safely take any contract unless he first proceeded to test it in the courts.

The court of appeals yesterday, according to the information received here, sustained Attorneys Hagby & Martin, and for the first time in Kentucky decided that it makes no difference whether or not an ordinance is legal, the contractor is not expected nor required to know it. It also makes a city indirectly responsible for the ignorance and carelessness of its officials. In this case, the council's failure to provide for sidewalks in the ordinance, resulted in extra work which will now cost the taxpayers about $500.

Young Men Acquitted.

Mayfield, Ky., March 15.—Wednesday morning a jury brought in a verdict of not guilty in the cases of malicious cutting against Walter and Herman Boren, two young men of the Hickory Grove section. At an ice cream supper on night in the summer of 1904, John Crider of this city, became engaged in a difficulty with the Boren boys, and was cut with a knife.

More Fights for Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, March 15.—Mayor McAleer has refused to sign the ordinance prohibiting fights at Chutes park and the Gans-Sullivan match will probably be pulled off there tonight.

Antwerp, March 15.—A dispatch received today states that the Belgian steamer Roidesheles has been lost in the upper Congo river, and all on board including Europeans and natives were lost.

Theatrical Notes

The Sambo Girl.

Eva Tanguay at The Kentucky Saturday night needs little local introduction, as her fame has brought her prominently before the theater-going public of America. Competent critics who have witnessed her performance in "The Sambo Girl," the musical travesty which she brings here Saturday, say that in this young comedienne there exists one whose stage characterizations are simply irresistible. A company of musical comedy artists and a chorus add to the pleasure of the entirety.

The Mayor of Tokio.

A musical event of rare importance is the coming engagement of Richard Carle in his latest farcical opera triumph "The Mayor of Tokio" at The Kentucky on Monday night, on which occasion Richard Carle Amusement Co. has arranged to present the same elaborate production requiring three mammoth baggage cars for transportation. "The Mayor of Tokio" is totally different from anything ever attempted by Mr. Carle. It is a jolly melange of everything new, bright and cheery and appetizing to opera extravaganza, musical and farce.

The score contains 21 numbers, varying in classification from the dreamy waltz to the dashing finale of the first act, and Mr. Carle has made distinctive features of many of these numbers by most unique dancing and picture arrangements of the large and attractive choral array better known as "Carle's Blue Ribbon Chorus of America" which also includes the dainty "Gelsa Girls" and the dashing "Peanut Ballet."

In "The Burgomaster" Mr. Carle has "The Tale of the Kangaroo" in "The Tenderfoot," "My Alamo Love" but in "The Mayor of Tokio" his quaint conception of "I Like You" from an auditor's standpoint is even more popular and attractive as eight, nine and ten encores at a performance is of common occurrence.

He leaves four small children, and two sisters, Misses Katie and Tenie Ashoff, and one brother, Mr. Joseph Ashoff. He was a well liked man and his death will grieve a host of friends.

The funeral will be high mass and will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. Francis de Sales church, of which he was a member, burial at Oak Grove.

JUVENILE COURT BILL HAS PASSED

The Law Will Become Effective Next June.

Paducah and Other Second Class Cities Are to Have Two Probation Offices.

COUNTY JUDGE TO PRESIDE.

As the immediate result of well-directed attention, the juvenile court is now within reach of actuality, as the senate has passed the bill unanimously, and it is now awaiting the signature of the governor.

Public interest, aroused by the progress of the bill through the legislature and increased by the recent visit of Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver the foremost exponent of the juvenile court idea in America, will now await with eagerness the establishment of the court in Paducah. The bill will become effective in June, ninety days after the conclusion of this session of the legislature.

Little expense and less red tape, fortunately, is involved in the organization of the court. County Judge R. T. Lightfoot will be the juvenile court judge and the sessions will be held in his court. They will be private as much as the law allows, as one of the worst features of the present system is holding up young lawbreakers to public scrutiny.

The only expense of the court will be the two probation officers, provided for in cities of the first and second class. Paducah, Lexington, Newport and Covington are the only cities besides Louisville which will have them. It is claimed the county will really save money by reason of not having to take care of children in jail, as at present. Every county in the state will have a court.

"The juvenile court law will aid the school officials in many ways," a prominent school official declared this morning, "and we are glad to see it in effect in Kentucky."

"There are many boys attending school and many who are not, who will be bettered by the juvenile court and it will help the school authorities to maintain stricter discipline among the school children. Pupils are supposed to be under the control or under authority of the teacher until they arrive home after dismissal from school, and in many instances some rather serious breaches of discipline have been reported from boys who do mischief on route home. The laws do not effect these youngsters sufficiently to prosecute them in court but the juvenile court will handle them and make it possible to enforce more rigid discipline. There are many little things detrimental to the schools which cannot be successfully handled in police court and have to be passed because there is no court to handle them. Now it will be different and we intend to take a hand and prosecute in the juvenile court whenever any breaches of discipline occur."

Eagles' Minstrel a Success.

The Eagles' minstrel at The Kentucky last night proved a success, notwithstanding the fact that inclement weather prevailed and kept a great many away. There was a fairly large crowd present, and the performance was satisfactory in every detail.

The vocal selections were well received and each singer was encored several times. The black-face comedians were very funny and the jokes were new and many of them local hits. The first part setting was uniquely arranged and the first part lasted fully an hour and a quarter. The ballad singers were Messrs. Richard Scott, Harry Collins, Walter Clark, William Green, Evert Thompson and Robert Chas. Caine. The black-face end men were Bobbie Caldwell, Wm. Brazelton, Charlie Hart and Ross Houghtland. Mr. Joe Desberger was intercomer and made an excellent one.

During the first part a telegram was received from Representative L. P. Head at Frankfort offering congratulations in the name of an Eagle, and regretting that he could not be present.

On account of unforeseen developments the afterpiece could not be produced and Mr. Desberger stated that the minstrel would be repeated at an early date. There is some talk of taking it to Cairo.

FEARFUL ROW IS ON IN A SUNDAY SCHOOL

Superintendent Asked to Resign Because of Brewery Stock.

Iowa Court Rules That Dreams Are Not Evidence—Illinois Farmer Gets Sweet Revenge.

SOME EXTRAORDINARY THINGS

Pittsburg, March 15.—There is a fearful row on in the Mary Brown Memorial Methodist Episcopal church here. Miss Martha Lewis, who was remembered by the late Captain S. S. Brown in his will, has been asked to resign as superintendent of the Mary Brown Sunday school, the trustees alleging that the young woman holds $30,000 worth of bonds in the Pittsburg Brewing company, left her by Brown. At a church meeting last night Miss Lewis refused to resign. Charges were preferred against her and given to a committee to investigate.

A Murderer at 75.

Franklin, Ind., March 15.—Thos. Darrell, 75 years old, an inmate of the Johnson county infirmary, killed his roommate, Cyrus Brown, 81 years old. Another roommate said that Darrell went to Brown's bed about midnight and told Brown that two angels had come to him in a dream and told him it was his duty to kill him, meaning Brown. Darrell flew into a rage when Brown told him there was nothing in the dream. He picked up an iron cuspidor and crushed Brown's head with it.

Dream Evidence Incompetent.
Des Moines, Ia., March 15.—The supreme court ruled from the gallows Charles Becker, who was convicted of the murder of August Schroeder in Lyon county upon the testimony of Mrs. Schroeder, whom Becker subsequently married, that Becker confessed the crime in his sleep. The court held that conviction should not have followed upon the dream. The appeal was taken by Becker's attorney the day before the execution was to take place.

Chief of Police Fined.

Charleston, Ill., March 15.—Chief of Police Wm. Harles was arrested and fined for violating the city ordinance, which does not allow spitting on the sidewalks. A short time ago for this offense William Harles caused the arrest of a son of Fountain Turner, a well-known farmer, and today the boy's father caught the chief in the same act and swore out a warrant against him.

Dowie Nearing Death's Door.

Chicago, Ill., March 15.—John Alexander Dowie's death is not far distant, according to the official announcement made by Deputy General Overseer Voliva made at a meeting following the public gathering held at Zion Central tabernacle. The latter assembly was behind locked doors, and great precautions were taken to exclude all except elders of the church and persons whom they personally vouched for as being adherents of the faith.

"I have been shocked and pained with some of our people in Zion City," said Voliva. "People have been spreading the report that Dr. Dowie has lost his mind. It is true that at times he has had fever deliriums, but his followers, regularly received from Jamaica up to a few days ago, clearly demonstrate that he still retains a vigorous mind. But, to be frank, I will say that, unless a miracle should be worked, Dr. Dowie cannot live much longer."

Chrysanthemums to Prevent Fever

Mexico City, Mexico, March 15.—The department of interior has ordered a special commission of the bacteriological institute to promote the cultivation of the chrysanthemum plant the flowers of which produce a power which is to be used as a preventive of typhus. The government is importing a large quantity of seed from Europe of the wild chrysanthemum of the Caucasus.

He Didn't Have to Hear Trial.

Washington, March 15.—The supreme court has declined the application of ex-Senator William E. Mason, of Illinois for writ of habeas corpus, releasing George W. Feltz from the penitentiary at Joliet. The action was directed against E. J. Murphy, warden of the state prison at Joliet. The chief ground upon which Mr. Mason based his application was the fact that Feltz, who was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for life, for murder was so deaf that he could not hear the proceedings in court and did not know what was occurring until he was sentenced.

Chicago to Have All Night Bank.
Chicago, March 15.—Chicago is soon to have a bank that will be kept open for business day and night, the only exception will be Sundays, Christmas and New Year's day. The capital stock will be $250,000. Safety deposit vaults will be connected with the enterprise, and these also and be open to patrons at any hour of the day or night. The new concern will be open for business April 1.

Lodges Must Have New Home.

Arkansas City, Kan., March 15.—Nearly every lodge in Arkansas City is without a meeting place. Today an order was issued by the mayor declaring all buildings over two stories high and not provided with fire escapes to be unsafe, and ordering them closed until fire escapes are erected. The order is the result of a movement started shortly after the Iroquois theater fire in Chicago.

Didn't Like Serenade.

Perryopolis, Pa., March 15.—Because he was besieged in his home all night, and because of damage to his property by strenuous serenaders upon the occasion of the wedding of his son, H. J. Mossbury, of this place, has sworn out warrants for the arrest of forty of the town's prominent young men.

Celluloid Comb Causes Death.

Petersburg, Ind., March 15.—The celluloid comb of Miss Ethel Barrett, aged 17, living near here, caught fire and she was fatally burned.

Robbed Four Public Libraries.

Peru, Ind., March 15.—The public library was burglarized and the cash box funds taken. Wabash, Huntington and Fort Wayne libraries had similar burglaries lately.

UNION CEMETERY.

Labor Men Can Now be Buried Under Proper Rites.

Chicago, Mar. 14.—It will be soon possible in Chicago for union men to die and be buried under "thoroughly union" conditions. The last chapter in the union book of life is a union cemetery.

Under an impulse given by the joint cigarmakers' unions of the city, the movement took practical shape yesterday, and within a month or two a plot of ground large enough for 5,000 graves, will have been acquired. The burying ground will be reserved strictly for unionists. No other person may be buried there.

The cigarmakers have appropriated $15,000 from their treasury to carry out the scheme. They do not intend to keep the cemetery for the benefit of their own trade, but will throw open the gates of the burying ground to the other unions of Chicago. It is expected that the rest of the 750 labor organizations of the city will join heartily in the plan.

Discontent is the want of self-reliance; it is infinitely of will.

Daily Thought.

As a rule, one must either climb or dig for things that are worth having.

THE RIGHT IDEA.

The Louisville Herald has the right idea in discussing the ownership of public utilities. The people should not be so eager to take charge of such enterprises, until they have purified municipal government. If they insist on a city's owning a utility before it has eliminated graft and grafters, it will only make more invincible the latter, for it will give them a firmer grasp on the government and make them more unwilling to let go. The thing to do is to insist on a better, more business-like, more sensible, more economical city government. When men of standing, character and ability are placed in charge of city governments—when official appointments are made for merit alone—we shall have, or begin to have, the right kind of a government. There will then be little opposition to municipal ownership. What is needed is to appoint men to office who will do for the salary they represent, as they would by themselves in their own private business. We need to have cities run in the same way that a modern business is conducted, that is, of course, if the business is conducted right.

Says the Herald:

"The utilities of a great city belong inalienably to the people of that city. They cannot be well and profitably operated by a city so long as that city's government is under partisan or factional rule. They can be so operated when the city's government is made a business proposition, pure and simple.

"It is the duty of the people of Louisville to bring about as soon as possible such a business system of city government. Avoiding that time leases may be granted of certain utilities to corporations allowing these bodies fair remuneration for capital invested, but securing for the city a just rental and granting no monopoly.

"Louisville is not now getting from the franchises enjoyed by some corporations within her limits the revenue justly due her. This condition is unfair to the wage earner and the home-builder and unjust to capital, which it conspires against by closing the door to competition.

"Conserve the people's interests. Have every grant or lease of franchises so framed as to permit the city to take over, when it feels it a duty to do so, the service temporarily granted or leased. The people must not be parted in perpetuity from their property."

ANOTHER VIEW OF THE POWERS CASE.

The Chicago Tribune in commenting on the Caleb Powers' decision of the supreme court of the United States, takes the position that the wrongs which have made Caleb Powers a prisoner for over six years can yet be righted. It says: "Rarely, if ever, has the supreme court condemned in such unsparring terms the actions of the officials of a state. By the use of the words 'administrative officers' the question is left open whether the judiciary of the state is also held guilty of complicity in the attempt to prevent justice. It is not said that the judges could have prevented the packing of the jury; it certainly is not said that the judges made any endeavor to prevent it.

"The Powers case is one in which the evidence is conflicting and in which party prejudices in favor of one or another view of the truth are strong. There was all the more reason why the officials in charge of the selection of the jury should have tried to get one that should be impartial. Instead of that these officials had it in mind, according to the decision of the supreme court, to 'exclude from the jury, so far as it was possible to do so every person, however competent who belonged to the same political party as the accused.'

"It surely must have been possible to find in Kentucky even in the heat of a state of excitement approaching civil war, twelve unprejudiced men drawn from different parties indiscriminately. The verdict might or might not have been the same, but it would have been received with less distrust and would not have had the effect of prolonging the bitterness of the struggle.

"It would be a defect in the constitution or in the statutes if there were no way in which such unfairness could be remedied. Justice Harlan points out that, while the appeal must be refused in its present form, there is a way in which the matter may be brought before the court again. Upon presentation of the case in due form, his language almost foreshadows a decision favorable to the accused. Whatever the final result, the administrative officers of the Kentucky courts will get cold comfort out of this decision."

You can't blame the president of Colombia for resigning because he has locomotor ataxia. It is a mighty bad affliction for an executive of those little countries to have. It may not require a great deal of brains to be president of one, but it often takes a good, healthy pair of legs.

The investigation of the recent election in Louisville is progressing slowly, and about the only thing that is obvious from the conflicting testimony of the witnesses is that Louisville certainly has an accomplished and versatile contingent of romancers.

Mr. Jesse Benson was called to Memphis this morning by the reported precarious condition of his father, James Benson, the blacksmith, who is suffering from an attack of paralysis. It is thought he had the second last night the telegram giving meager particulars of his condition.

Mr. Benson lived in Paducah for many years and kept a blacksmith shop and is well known here.

RIVER NEWS

The gauge shows 20.2 feet today, a fall of 0.5.

It looked like mid-winter on the river front this morning. The mud on the levee had frozen into a sheet of ice and the footing was unsafe for man and beast. Snow flurries also added to the touch of winter.

The Dick Fowler got away on time this morning for Cairo.

Second Clerk Bud Berry of the Dick Fowler, is ill and First Clerk Lee Rhodes is holding down two positions today.

The Hopkins was the Evansville packet today.

The Kentucky is due out of the Tennessee river tonight, and leaves Saturday for her return trip.

The Sallito is due today from St. Louis for the Tennessee river.

The Castalia is due some time today from the Cumberland river. Mr. J. B. Lord of Chicago, of the Ayer & Lord Tie Co., has been using the Castalia in making a tour of inspection of his tie interests in the rivers, and is expected in Paducah today some time by rail.

The Georgia Lee is due tonight or tomorrow for Cincinnati from Memphis.

L. P. Kleiderer, of Louisville, owns a farm near Henderson, Ky., which is along the edge of the river. Recently it was found that a bed of mud was in the river immediately in front of his land. A Wisconsin man discovered the fact and started to unload his knowledge by securing a boatload and taking them away to be sold as material for initiation pearl buttons. Mr. Kleiderer prepared to bring suit against the invader for the value of the shells which had been taken, but on the agreement of the defendant to recognize Mr. Kleiderer's right to the river bottom the suit was withdrawn. Now the question is, who owns the bottom of the river?

Capt. Ed C. Postel, of Memphis, one of the best known commanders and pilots out of that port, is on his way to Cape Cruz in a Dies, Nicaragua, to take charge of the United States and Nicaragua company's steamer James Dietrich, on the Coco river, Nicaragua.

The Fulton and Harvester are coming down from Louisville with tow of coal for lower river points.

By order of the secretary of the treasury Judge W. G. Dearing, surveyor of the port, yesterday issued a license to the towboat Wash Gray and it was released. The Wash Gray was tied up about ten days ago by the surveyor because it had neglected to renew its license. The letter from the department at Washington said that the surveyor had done right in tying up the boat, but the government was not inclined to make the owners pay a fine if they would comply with the law hereafter. The boat is owned by the Monogahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company.—Courier-Journal.

That the state of the river has been remarkably favorable for traffic during the past 12 months is shown by the record of the City of Louisville, in the Louisville-Cincinnati trade, which left Louisville on the afternoon of March 4, 1905, at the clearing of the river from ice, and which since has not missed a single trip.—Louisville Herald.

DEPUTY MARSHAL LANDS PRISONER

W. R. Bertram Was Arrested Last Night for Bootlegging.

He Fell Over a Fire Plug Once Near the Island Creek Bridge, but Escaped Serious Injury.

BERTRAM LANDED IN JAIL.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Wade Brown had his first real strenuous experience in an official capacity last night when he chased W. R. Bertram, white, of Marshall county, all over Mechanicsburg, meeting with many obstacles, among them a fire plug, which he stumbled over and came near being seriously injured. He kept up the pursuit, however, and finally landed his man safe in jail.

Deputy Marshal Brown received papers notifying the arrest of Bertram, who is charged with bootlegging. He started in Ballard county yesterday but decided instead to go to Benton and get Bertram. When he arrived, his man had left for Paducah and Deputy Marshal Brown secured former Sheriff Dave Reeves, of Benton, to accompany him to Paducah to identify the fugitive. Marshal Brown not knowing him by sight.

The two covered a great deal of ground in the early evening and got trace of their man at several saloons down town. They continued the search and learned where Bertram had been in Mechanicsburg. Marshal Brown then telephoned for Officer Dugan of the city police force, and started out with him to locate the man. While hustling from the bridge across Island Creek in the dark Marshal Brown failed to see a fire plug, which he says sets in the middle of the pavement because of recent changes in the location of houses, and he collided with it. His left ankle was given a very hard bump and he went to the ground. The ankle gave him a great deal of pain but the plucky deputy marshal continued. He met Officer Dugan at the Farley store and after a short search further into the wilds of "the burg" located the fugitive and arrested him.

Bertram was taken to jail and locked up at 8 o'clock pending trial. This morning Marshal Brown returned to Benton to secure witnesses. Bertram is a well known character in Benton and Marshall county, and has been before the courts before on a similar charge.

MAYHEM CHARGED.

a Warrant Issued Against Thad Williams, a Small Boy.

Hermann Grief, age 10 years, son of Mr. George W. Grief of South Fourth street, appeared at the city hall this morning and had a warrant issued against Thad Williams, Jr., son of Thad Williams, the barber, of South Fifth street, charging mayhem.

The little fellows got into a difficulty and Grief's nose was cut by the Williams boy, who used a sharp knife. The Grief youth claims he did not provoke an assault, while his opponent claims he came into his Williams' yard, and began fighting him.

Judge Sanders placed the boy under a bond which he gave and will hear the case tomorrow morning.

Dr. W. C. Enbanks dressed the wound and stated it was not serious and will not permanently impair the boy's appearance.

WIRE BROKE.

Considerable Excitement Created But No One Was Hurt.

A trolley wire guide broke at Third and Broadway today shortly after 1 o'clock and narrowly missed several pedestrians who were crossing the street.

Mr. Stuart Simot, of the Rudy-Phelps Co., came very near being struck. He either had his hat struck by the wire or lost it in his hurry to get away. The wire fell across the trolley wire and was charged with 1,100 volts. Fortunately it struck no one.

IS COMING BACK

Wire Inspector Evertz Will Be Appointed Permanently.

It has been rumored that Mr. Frank O. Evertz, who is temporarily wire inspector for the city, will not return to Paducah, but this is said to be erroneous as he will return on receiving his permanent appointment to the office.

Mr. Evertz came to Paducah to take the place on recommendation of local insurance men and the state inspector. He was placed in charge temporarily but the boards did not show any inclination to make the appointment permanent. Mr. Evertz returned home to St. Louis saying that he would remain unless his appointment is made permanent because he had interests in St. Louis to look after which were being interfered with by his present condition.

The boards have decided to make him the inspector and he has been notified of the fact and is expected back in a few days. The boards will act as soon as they meet again.

THE COLD WAVE

Came as Predicted and No Immediate Relief is in Sight.

The cold wave predicted for yesterday and last night came, and it has been generally felt in this section, the entire west end of the state being affected.

The fall began early in the afternoon. The thin rain changed to snow and later froze on the trees and pavements making it very hard to successfully get about. This morning a thin coating of ice covered the streets and pavements. The highest point reached yesterday was 36 and as low a temperature as 21 was registered at an early hour this morning.

The weather man does little in the way of promising relief. The predictions sent out this morning are as follows: "Occasional snow tonight and Friday with no decided change in temperature."

INJURIES FATAL.

J. Y. Crawford, Struck by a Train at Mayfield, Dies.

J. Y. Crawford, aged 47, who was struck one week ago by an I. C. freight train at Mayfield, died last night from the injuries sustained.

He was crossing the track when a fast freight train struck him. He was hurled a distance of 75 feet and broke several bones in his body in falling. He was considered seriously but not fatally injured and his death was unexpected. He grew worse the past few days and passed away last night. He leaves a family. Crawford was in the grocery business and the remains were taken to Tennessee for burial this morning.

HOME FOUND

For the Colored Boy Mistreated by a Gypsy.

County Judge Lightfoot this morning found a home for the negro boy who was mistreated by Leander or "Mike" Smith, the horse trading Gypsy, near Wallace park, and the boy will remain in Paducah.

Judge Lightfoot stated that he secured a good home for him and will not send him back to Arkansas where he formerly lived. Smith came back this morning and applied to Judge Lightfoot to see the boy but was refused. "I told the trailer that he could not see the boy because I had spirited him away and he would be unable to find him; moreover that if he smoked around and tried to get the boy again I would make it rather interesting for him." Judge Lightfoot declared.

ANOTHER MEETING

There will probably be a meeting of the attorneys of the East Tennessee Telephone company and the committee on railroads, telegraph and telephones of the general council to take up the differences of city and the telephone company with regard to a franchise for the company. The meeting will be held at the apartment of the attorneys of the company, and an effort will be made to compromise the matter.

Some of the council claim that the company has "seen a new light" since the United States supreme court decision on the traction companies claims of ninety-nine year franchises in Chicago, and are anxious for a settlement.

Death of a Child.

The 29-months-old daughter of Mr. John M. Vickery, of 1927 Guthrie avenue, died this morning at 1 o'clock of complication of diphtheria. The funeral will take place tomorrow at the residence, interment at Oak Grove Temple. The father is the well-known J. C. Tinner.

Commercial Club Meeting.

The Commercial club will hold its meeting scheduled for Tuesday night, tonight at the city hall, and it is expected there will be a good attendance. A very interesting program has been arranged, and every one is invited to attend.

Establishment of Down Town Ticket Office Will Be Taken Up

By the I. C.

He said he had read with some amusement charges of some judges in regard to progressive euchre, and that if the ladies felt that progressive euchre was necessary to their enjoyment and entertainment and one of their missions on earth, they should be allowed to play for prizes without being molested by the grand jury.

Lecture At High School.

The stereopticon lecture on "Japan" tomorrow evening at the High school auditorium by Miss Susan Polk Temple, promises to be a most interesting one. Miss Temple has traveled extensively abroad and the views to be shown were all personally collected in her tour of Japan a few years ago. Wherever she has gone she has remained long enough to get in touch with the country and people and has not merely "flitted through." She is a Paducah girl of touch charm of mentality and personality, and is spending the winter with her sister Mrs. C. H. Brothers on North Eighth street.

The lecture is under the auspices of the class of '06, and has been arranged by them and Miss Marian Noble of the High school faculty, for the benefit of the High school library. The subject "Japan" has an interest all its own, sufficient to attract many.

Matinee Music Club's Good Work.

The Matinee Musical club held its regular bi-weekly meeting yesterday afternoon at the Eagle club house. It was largely attended despite the inclement afternoon, and the program was an especially delightful one, limited to Women Composers. It was arranged by Mrs. W. C. Sheffield and Miss Ethel Brooks the leaders of the afternoon.

The club is meeting with good success in the sale of tickets for the Bishopian Festival on next Wednesday evening. This is decidedly the most important musical opportunity ever coming to Paducah, and the public should so appreciate it and the philanthropic work of the Matinee Musical club in behalf of the city's musical uplift. The coming of Miss Zudie Harris with David Bingham is an added honor, and the "S. R. O." sign should greet them at The Kentucky.

The child's grandmother, with whom it lived, died here recently and the child was taken to St. Louis to live. The Clark woman is a relative of the deceased grandmother, and desiring to give the child a home employed the detective to find it for her.

All Is Lovely.

S. A. Woodson and his stepfather, Sam House, of Kansas, Graves county, have adjusted their differences and when a warrant against House comes up in Justice Emery's court here, for misappropriating a horse belonging to House's wife, and Woodson's mother, it will be dismissed. House, it will be recalled, was arrested here day before yesterday for making way with a rig, and claimed it had been left at Sedalia. He and his accuser went there and recovered the rig and all made up. It seems that the only trouble between House and his wife was in regard to going to Arkansas to live. He wanted to go and she didn't.

Big Damage Suit Dismissed.

In circuit court at Mayfield the big $10,000 damage suit of S. N. Mullins against J. D. Covington was dismissed on motion of the plaintiff. The action was for the alleged alienation of Mullins' wife's affections. All parties live at Wingo.

Yeltima was arrested by the authorities at Paducah yesterday and will be brought here by the police of that city.—Lexington Herald.

Another License Warrant.

Officer Thad Terrell this morning served a summons on Mr. Roy McKinney, the commission broker, to test the license ordinance. This is the second warrant issued in the license controversy, Mr. Joe Exall, of Exall & Co., being the first merchant warrant.

She met him last year at Fort Snelling, Minn., where his regiment was stationed, and they soon became engaged. When his time expired last August, Young came back to the home of his father in Leslie county near Hyden, where he remained until last Sunday, when he was summoned to the bedside of his fiancée. The wedding was to have been some time next month, and Young is almost heartbroken. Miss Brabeck's relatives have been notified, and the body will likely be shipped to Minneapolis tomorrow.

Weak Women Made Strong, Sick Women Made Well.

IN the above eight words is summed up the great work for women which is accomplished by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The record of cures effected by this remedy is without a parallel. Thousands of testimonials received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women.

It is composed wholly of medicinal principles extracted from the roots of native, American forest plants, pure triple-refined glycerine of proper strength, being used instead of harmful alcohol both in extracting and preserving these medicinal principles.

IT IS A POWERFUL INVIGORATING TONIC,

Imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For weak and sickly women, who are "worn-out," "run-down," or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office, or school-room, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will prove a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving power.

AS A SOOTHING AND STRENGTHENING NERVINE,

"Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the organs distinctly feminine. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

CURES OBSTINATE CASES.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful periods, unnatural suppressions and irregularities, prolapsus or falling of the pelvic organs, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the uterus, inflammation, pain and tenderness over the ovaries and kindred ailments.

FREE CONSULTATION.

An invitation is extended by Dr. Pierce to every sick and ailing woman to consult him by letter. There is absolutely no charge or fee for this consultation. Every letter is carefully considered, fully answered, and its statements held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE BADGE OF HONESTY.

Each bottle of the above medicine bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places this medicine in a class all by itself. It cannot be classed as a patent nor secret medicine for it is neither—being of known composition.

DR. PIERCE'S PLEASANT PELLETS

cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation of the bowels, loss of appetite, coated tongue, sour stomach, windy belchings, "heart-burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are cathartic. They regulate, invigorate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day. To relieve the distress arising from over-eating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets." They're tiny, sugar-coated, antibilious granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

How to live in health and happiness, is the general theme of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great work on medicine and hygiene, containing over 1000 pages and more than 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

PRETTY PARKS

Will Be Feature of the Railroad Grounds Here This Year.

Mr. J. H. Keller, gardner for the Louisville division of the I. C., is expected in the city in a few days to do preliminary work on the flower beds and depot lawns for the road here. The Paducah depot lawn has been the prize getter for the past several years and Mr. Keller takes great pride in it as well as the local gardner, James McLaughlin.

There are a great many flowers to set out this spring and the railroad property will be beautified in many ways. The N. C. & St. L. road has decided to convert the vacant lot adjoining its property at Fifth and Norton streets into a park and Paducah's railroads will be beautified to a great extent this summer.

The best safeguard against headache, constipation and liver troubles is DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They don't gripe. Sold by Lang Bros.

SMITHLAND HAS ONE LESS PAPER

The Democrat Sells to the Livingston Banner.

Preacher Living Near Smithland Receives a Communication From Unknown Persons.

OTHER LIVINGSTON CO. NOTES

(Smithland Democrat.)

The Democrat announces: "After this issue the Democrat will be consolidated with the Livingston Banner and will be manager hereafter by Mr. O. C. Lasher, the present editor and manager of the Banner."

We learn that about three weeks ago, some one left a bundle of switches tied up with a wire and about six feet long, bearing a note which read, "If you don't like your surroundings get out, and that d—d quick," or words to that effect, on the front porch of Rev. R. L. Tally, who lives about four miles north-east of Smithland.

Yesterday the three girls, Nancy Hockenberry, Eddio Stewart and Mary Shoemaker, who were charged with stealing a skiff from D.H. Council, were brought into court for trial and after the evidence was introduced, on account of the tender age of the parties, the judge gave them a number one good lecture and sent them home to sin no more.

Mr. W. N. Nelkirk, wife and children, accompanied by Mrs. Nettie Harper and Miss Laura McCadless came up Monday from Paducah and are now visiting relatives of this city.

J. Cade Davis, the handsome and popular clerk in the Rudy, Phillips & Co. boot and shoe store, of Paducah, came up yesterday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Davis, on Court street and will return today.

Little Miss Nellie Glenn Miller, of Paducah, came up last week, accompanied by Miss Virginia Bush, who visited several days in that city, and is now the guest of her little cousin, Miss Mary Musa Bush, on Front St.

Miss Lou Davis, after visiting several days in Paducah last week, returned home Monday on the Fowler, accompanied by Miss Lula Threlkeld.

Mr. Victor Thomas, of Paducah, visited his sister, Mrs. W. T. Threlkeld, of this place, last week.

SPECIAL TRAIN

Will Be Used to Carry Richard Carle Company.

Richard Carle and his "Mayor of Tokio" company, which play here Monday night, will arrive from Memphis on a special train at noon on Monday the 19th.

The "movement" of the train has been received by local railroad employees. It will move as a second section of the fast Memphis and Louisville passenger train. The company is a large one, numbering 55 people by actual count, and carries a great deal of scenery. It has just left the east, after several months in New York on Broadway.

"The Mayor of Tokio" is one of the headliners in the theatrical business and will no doubt prove one of the biggest draw cards of the year at The Kentucky.

Carle is the author of "The Tender foot," "Mad and the Mummy" and "Mayor of Tokio." He writes most of the song hits both the music and words. This will be Carle's second visit to Paducah his first being in "The Tenderfoot" last year.

VERY INTERESTING

Was Meeting of the Doctors Last Evening—Good Papers Read.

The McCracken County Medical society held its regular meeting last night with Drs. H. P. Sights and Vernon Blythe, Dr. Sights and paper on "Sanitation" and Dr. B. T. Hall on "Catarrh of the Stomach." They were fine papers and were greatly enjoyed.

At the next meeting, which will be with Dr. P. H. Stewart as host, State President Z. O. Aud, of Coelker, Ky., is expected to be a guest of the society. He was expected two or three weeks ago but could not come. If he comes for the next meeting, March 29th, the meeting will be held in the council chamber at the city hall.

MUST NOT SOLICIT

NEW ORDER ISSUED TO LETTER CARRIERS.

Does Not, However, Prevent Them From Handling Express Packages.

Rural letter carriers will not be permitted to solicit business or receive orders of any kind while on duty. Many requests have been received by fourth Assistant Postmaster General De Graw that the privilege of taking subscriptions for newspapers be restored to the rural carriers. When rural free delivery was in its infancy the carriers were allowed, in addition to doing an express package business, to solicit subscriptions for newspapers and other publications. In this way they were enabled to increase their income.

Abuses springing up, however, and a law was enacted requiring that "on and after July 1, 1904, rural carriers shall not solicit business or receive orders of any kind for any person, firm or corporation." In response to the requests now being sent to the department, the following order was issued:

"Under this provision of law rural carriers are not permitted to solicit business or receive orders of any kind, including subscriptions for newspapers. The department considers this a wise provision, it being contrary to good policy for an employee of the government, in connection with his official duties, to be acting as an agent of a private enterprise to the disadvantage of a competitor. It is also deemed in the interest of the postal service, in that the carrier does not make the delivery of mail a secondary matter. Carriers, however, are not prohibited from carrying outside of the mails, unmailable matter on the request and at the expense of patrons of their routes."

PILES CURED

Without Knife or Instrument

Sample Package Free So That We Can Prove It to You.

"Every morning, for over 20 years, I never went to the toilet without fear and trembling and I never left it without having suffered agonizing tortures. Many days I did not dare go at all, so much did I dread the terrible ordeal."

These are the exact words of a sufferer from piles and we hear the same thing almost every day. It voices the sentiments of hundreds of thousands of others in this country today, for it is estimated that of every ten persons we meet, in church, the street, or the theater, seven are affected with piles.

Martyrs and needless martyrs, too, for since the discovery of the marvelous Pyramid Pile Cure no one need suffer one moment longer. There is now no excuse for having piles and if you continue to suffer from them you do not deserve a particle of sympathy, considering the chance we give you to prove it to your own satisfaction wholly free of cost to you.

Here is a typical case: Mr. Benjamin Shaw, postmaster of Bland, New Mexico. He had suffered from aggravated piles for years and was upon the eve of a serious surgical operation, believing that he had reached the limit, and that the operation offered the only possible means of relief and cure. Let us quote his own words in his letter of October 31, 1905: "I was in great agony of mind and body. In the meantime, a gentleman told me of the virtue of your pyramid remedy. I fortunately found it at a drug store, and by the next morning I did not feel that an operation was necessary, and in three days I was able to return home, and a complete cure was accomplished to my great satisfaction and the surprise of the physician."

Send today to the Pyramid Drug company, 734 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Mich., and get a sample package by return mail and then go to your druggist and get a box, the price of which is 50 cents, and get well without pain, trouble or fretting.

WANTS TO BE POLICEMAN.

This is Ambition of Dewey Troutman, Taken to Reform School.

A Louisville dispatch of yesterday says:

"Convicted of stealing three horses in 40 minutes, Dewey Troutman, aged five years, of Paducah, Ky., en route to the state reform school at Lexington, spent the morning at the county jail. He is the youngest prisoner confined in the Louisville jail or ever sent to the reform school, and probably the youngest ever convicted in Kentucky. His greatest ambition is to be a policeman, and the following conversation occurred with one of the guards:

"Son, where are you going?"
"To the reform school."
"Why are they sending you there?"
"Cause I stole horses."
"Why did you take them?"
"I wanted to ride."
"How long are they going to keep you at school?"
"Five years."
"What are you going to do then?"
"Be a policeman."

CHAPTER XXVI.
 ANN, being measurably relieved from anxiety by Louis' subsiding pulse, permitted herself a closer study of the brusque and ominous movements taking place in the scope of her window. She studied Raymond, in earnest but apparently unexpected conference with his workmen. No word of their low interference reached her ears, but she observed that they organized into squads as if in obedience to some command and that each man armed himself and that each face was grim or recklessly smiling. That they formed her guard she knew, and this in itself ought to have been thrilling. But it was not—it seemed neutral.

Raymond did not show himself again to her until about 10 o'clock of the evening, when he entered the sickroom and said quietly to Braille: "Doctor, you better go to bed if the patient will permit. You may be badly needed early tomorrow morning."

"Very well," acquiesced Braille, convinced that a closer tie than friendship united Ann and the young miner and that they desired to be alone.

The door had hardly closed behind the young physician when Ann turned to Raymond and impulsively said: "You must not try to evade me. I want to know what is threatening. Tell me!"

"The camp is wild," he admitted, feeling the resentment in her voice, "and I don't see how a clash can be avoided so long as Munro is in command and keeps his present temper. But you need give no thought to that. All my men are on guard tonight, and whatever happens, this cabin is safe."

"I like you to be honest with me," she said, more gently. "I'm not a child, and I'm not a timid person."

"You shall know," he answered, taking a seat before the fire. He had never been more admissible than at that moment. "My theory is that the sheriff's forces are eager to storm the hill before the governor has a chance to interfere and protect his pets. That is the way they put it. If the attack is made a desperate struggle will follow. Probably the deputies will try to carry the fortification direct. Meanwhile Kelly and I have drawn up and forwarded to the governor a long telegram signed by the leading independent, refuting our disaster and demanding immediate interference on his part, and we are hoping to hear from him before midnight. I have also wired Harriet to warn the sheriff of your presence here and that we are guarding you. I think that is with the deputies. If he is he will see that the cabin remains outside the belt of operation."

"Where is Captain Munro?"

"His vestiges are camped on the north slope, but may engage the enemy at any moment, for Jack is quite as eager as the sheriff to win this blood. If it were not for the possible injury of innocent men and women I would say let them fight it out. Each camp is quite as crazy and lawless as the other. Now you have the truth. I have concealed nothing from you. I will even tell you that Munro has promised to come down for a final conference with the independents and that we are still hoping to persuade him to leave the camp."

"The sick boy stirred uneasily and called faintly, and Ann went to him and bent above him tenderly. "Here I am, Biddle. Are you better?"

"Oh, I'm so hot! Take that blanket off me."

Raymond looked at Ann. "Shall I lighten his bed?"

She shook her head as she put a glass of water to the boy's lips. "What time is it?" he asked as he felt back upon his pillow.

"Going on 10 o'clock."

"Has the fight come off yet?"

"Raymond was cautious. "No, the camp is quiet."

He insisted on talking. "I hope they won't fight till I get over this cold. It's hard luck to be here. What day is it? How long have I been sick? You should have seen Jack when he rode up and stooped the man!" In this way his mind leaped and danced for an hour, but he grew drowsy at last and went away into sleep.

Ann spoke first. "Poor boy! He will always feel defrauded to think he is missing all the drama."

ter, thank you."

A covert smile curled the handsome lips of the young leader as he glanced from Raymond to Ann, and something in his hearing puzzled the girl. When he spoke again, with a growing deliberation, she perceived that he was in liquor.

"You mustn't be alarmed—these are rough times, but you'll be protected. Braille's comin' off this time, sure thing. We move on the enemy at daybreak. Sit down. Don't stand in my presence," he added, with a comical twist of his lips.

Ann turned with a startled glance to Raymond, who gently said: "I'm glad you came down, Jack. I want you to hold a conference with the independents."

Munro stiffened. "No time for conference. No time to talk with any one. I just came down to say howdy to the lady, that's all. Understand?" His voice rose.

Raymond lifted a warning hand. "Quietly, old man, don't disturb the boy. Let's go find Kelly."

Munro's face grew sullen. "Don't want to see Kelly—don't want to see you. I've come to see the lady." He faced Ann again. "I'm going into battle. May be killed tomorrow. Had to say goodby. I may not see you again."

To Raymond's great relief Kelly, who had heard Munro arrive, appeared at the door. His manner was easy and his voice low as he greeted the intruder.

"Hello, Jack! How goes the Napoleonic business?"

Munro turned with darkening brows and labored to be gloomily impressive. "Gut 'em scared, all right. They're meditating retreat this minute."

Kelly laid a hand on his shoulder. "Lad, you need sleep. You're worn out."

Raymond, with a significant look at Matt, turned as if to stir the fire, a movement which brought him behind his visitor.

Munro put his hands in his pockets and laboriously explained. "Been tryin' to keep awake on whisky. Tired shot this minute, askin' lady Ann's pardon."

Raymond's right arm encircled the young leader's waist, pinching the dandy right hand to his side, while Kelly, seizing the almost equally skillful left, whipped the young desperado's revolver from his belt.

For a moment the fangless rattle-snake was bewildered. "What you mean, fob?" he asked omnibusly.

"Come outside, Jack. Don't make a LARK'S KIDNEY GLOBES row—for the lady's sake. We want to talk to you."

"Let go o' me," he retorted, writhing in Raymond's clutch. In the midst of this he grinned at Kelly. "I know these arms. What's your game, Rob?"

"Come outside and I'll tell you," pleaded Raymond.

The sudden brain of the reckless leader was waking up again, and, with a bow to Ann, he said: "Sorry to 'sturb you, but I must take these men outside and kill 'em. See you again soon."

Raymond released his prisoner and stepped through the door in advance of him, but as Munro followed and stood for an instant on the step, peering into the darkness, Raymond seized him again and, with a furious twist, threw him to the earth and fell upon him in a terrible struggle. Matt, mindful of Ann and the boy, closed the door. The girl, not daring to look out, could only stand with nerveless limbs and pounding heart and listen. Once the desperate man uttered a gasping snarl, but it was cut short by a merciless hand, and all was still. Then her composure gave way.

"Oh, Rob, don't kill him!" she called, heedless of Louis. Opening the door, she cried again, "Don't, please don't!"

Kelly was binding the captain's feet while Raymond, with a knee on his chest and one hand at his throat, looked up at Ann as she stood in the doorway and said: "Please go in. We are doing this for his own good. We won't hurt him. He'll thank us for it when he understands our motive."

Munro, like a trapped wildcat, snarled at his captor, but Raymond's long fingers prevented him. "Now, listen, Jack. You did me a good turn today, and I'm going to do as much for you. I'm going to save you from state's prison against your own fool's will. You're going to leave camp tonight, dead sure thing. And you might as well go quietly. If you don't, we'll pack you on your horse like a roll of blankets. Will you be quiet? Will you ride your horse or must we tie you?"

Again the frenzied man renewed his struggle. Blindly, ferociously, like an animal, deaf to all reason, acknowledging no law but that of force, he writhed, beating the ground. His gasping breath was painful to hear. At last Braille, who had been picking handily at his medicine case, suddenly opened the door and ran out.

"Here is where the man of medicine comes in," he called joyfully, and thrust a folded handkerchief beneath Munro's nostrils. "Let him breathe, Raymond," he said quietly. "I'll do him good."

Munro's knotted muscles almost instantly relaxed, his hands fell inert, his head turned quietly to one side, and his face became as peaceful as a sleeping child.

"What have you done?" whispered Kelly excitedly.

Braille laughed. "Hypnotized him. You can do as you wish with him now, but work quick."

"Much obliged, doctor," said Raymond. "Take him up, Matt. Let's put him away while he sleeps. He'll go by freight now." As they laid hold of the corpulent figure he added to Ann and to Braille, "Not a word of this to any one!"

A knock at the door started Ann. But the visitor was only one of Munro's men, deferential, almost timid, in her presence.

"Excuse me, but has the captain been here this evening?" he asked politely.

The doctor quickly answered, "Yes, but he went away again almost immediately."

"If you see him, just tell him we used him on the hill."

"I'll do so gladly." The messenger withdrew, and they soon heard him gallop swiftly away, and all became silent.

At Ann's insistent request Braille went back to his couch, and she went again alone, waiting for Raymond's return.

The situation in the great drama was now quite clear to her mental vision. She could see the small army waiting below, foolishly eager for the coming of the dawn, and it was not difficult to imagine the excitement and consternation in Munro's forces when their leader failed to appear. She understood also something of the panic in Bozle and in the valley and realized that through the night the news of the impending assault on the peak was flying, loosed along aerial ways by the tapping fingers of a hundred deft, dispassionate operators.

THE BOARD DID NOT FINISH BUSINESS

Will Discuss the Street Cleaning Department Friday.

Test Case to Be Made of Improvements on Streets Accepted by City.

LITTLE BUSINESS YESTERDAY

The board of public works held a meeting yesterday afternoon, but on account of the absence of President E. P. Noble, who was in Chicago, the business was not finished, and another meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon.

A report was submitted by Street Inspector Alonzo Elliott regarding street cleaning and other matters in his department, but the project of establishing a street cleaning department by the city was not decided, but left open for tomorrow.

Streets and gutters in Rowlandtown were ordered cleaned by the street inspector's force.

A request was received from property owners on each side of Farley street, Mechanicsburg, for grant of sidewalks. It was ordered that the proper petition first be prepared and signed and filed with the board, which will then act on the request.

The street inspector was instructed to consult the city solicitor in regard to vehicles being driven over the sidewalks at the Glanville stable at Third and Washington streets, where there is no driveway from the curb to the stable door. If it is against the law, a driveway will have to be constructed for vehicles barred from crossing.

Street Inspector Elliott reported that he had decided on Hampton avenue, from the Cairo road to North 12th street, to grade and gravel as a test of who must pay for such an improvement. The street is in Werten's addition. It was built and some gravel placed on it, and it was dedicated by Mr. Werten to, and accepted by the city. The city now claims that the gravel was not thick enough, and that for that reason the city will not be compelled to keep up repairs on such streets. This street will be graded and graveled just as it is a dirt road, and then the question will be taken to the courts for settlement. It is likely that the courts will decide that if the street was not properly built the city should not have accepted it.

The master of constructing a culvert at Ellis avenue near 12th street for drainage, was referred to the city solicitor to ascertain whether or not the property has ever been dedicated to the city. If it has, the street inspector will be instructed to build the culvert.

The street inspector was instructed to have cleaned and repaired the streets and sidewalks on Broadway near the railway crossing.

The board requested City Weigher M. W. Johnson to keep a record of all material weighed for the board of works department of the city, in order that the board will not have to depend solely on the seller's certificate from the weigher.

Tomorrow at 4 o'clock, at the adjourned meeting of the board, the joint street committee of the general council will be present to discuss street improvements for the year.

ORDERED TO LEAVE

GYPSIES WERE CRUEL TO THE NEGRO BOY, WHO WAS TAKEN FROM THEM.

He Lives in Arkansas City—Mike Smith Fined in Judge Lightfoot's Court.

The seven-year-old negro boy alleged to have been unmercifully beaten by gypsies, proved to be Leander Clay, whose home is in Arkansas City, Ark. The boy and the gypsy, who gave the name of Mike Smith, were taken before Judge Lightfoot in county court late yesterday afternoon, and after hearing the evidence Smith was fined $1 and costs, amounting to $14.50, which he paid. It developed that the boy was unmercifully beaten on many occasions. He was afraid to testify yesterday while Smith was in the court room, and said he was well treated and not harmed.

When Smith was taken into the next room, however, the boy admitted that Smith treated him most cruelly, and would not allow him to go back to his home in Arkansas.

Smith claims the child's mother gave him to the gypsies. Judge Lightfoot ordered the child taken care of by Judge James Eaker until it can be learned whether or not relatives want him. All the gypsies except Smith were ordered to leave the county at once. Smith's wife became a mother a few days ago, and for this reason he was not ordered to leave with the rest.

BIG DEALS IN MINING PROPERTIES

Divisions of Stock in the Schwab Merger of Gold Mines.

Shows the Prospects of Properties
Adjoining Claims of a Paducah Company.

LOCAL COMPANY'S GOOD CLAIMS

The Bullfrog district Rhyolite
Herald of February 23 says:

According to New York advices, the Montgomery Shoshone Consolidated Mines Co., is the style of the new company which takes over the Montgomery Shoshone, Shoshone Polaris and Crystal. Charles M. Schwab is the president; Donald B. Gilles, vice president; Oliver Wren, secretary and treasurer. The directors will be C. M. Schwab of New York; D. B. Gilles, Malcolm Macdonald and Jno. McKane, of Tonopah; Dr. W. R. Ward, of Pittsburg; William P. Bonbright, of William Bonbright & Co., New York, and J. E. Schwab.

The company will be capitalized at $2,500,000, par value of shares $5. One share of the Consolidated company will be issued for three and three-fourths shares of the original Montgomery Shoshone Mines company; one share of the Consolidated for ten shares of the Shoshone-Polaris Mines company, and one share of the Consolidated for 24 shares of the Crystal Bullfrog Mining company, which includes the Rand claims.

The Paducah Bullfrog Gold Mining Co. owns about 45 acres practically adjoining the property referred to above.

Bonanza Mountain Merger.

There are rumors of another big deal in Bullfrog district properties that will surpass, from a standpoint of territory embraced, the newly announced Montgomery Shoshone Consolidated Mines Co. The Tonopah Mining company capitalists are credited with having bought Denver and Bellvue at any price offered, seeking to get a strong foothold in these companies in anticipation of a merger, which would probably include the Tramp. The New York Mail and Commercial have printed several items pointing to this merger. It is also rumored that J. W. Gates may also go into the deal with the recently acquired Rush property, which was secured by Dr. J. Grant Lyman, for himself and others, none of his associates being named. Mr. Gates is believed, however, to be the central figure in the Rush bond.

The White Rock claim of the Paducah Bullfrog Gold Mining Co. is on Bonanza Mountain is surrounded by mines developed and being developed today.

BALD EAGLE'S MASCOT DEAD.

Nell, the Gont, Died After Seven Years of Service.

The steamer Bald Eagle, plying between St. Louis and Illinois river points, which left Paducah a few days ago after spending the winter here, will be in mourning for 30 days on account of the death of Nell, the little nannie goat which for more than seven years had been the boat's mascot. Nell was adopted when an infant by a member of the crew at the time the boat was brand new, and she spent the remainder of her life on the steamer.

She seldom went ashore, but some times stepped off on the wharfboat to remain a few hours. On such occasions she could always distinguish the Bald Eagle's whistle from that of other steamers.

Nell was given a sailor's burial at St. Louis, her body being consigned to the Mississippi. Many members of the crew looked on. The fact that the boat's mascot passed away on the 13th of the month was a cause of some uneasiness on the part of the crew.

SHOULD MAN KNOW HIMSELF?

The Great Benefit of the Public Schools in Teaching Common Sense and Self-knowledge—the Natural Aids to Good Health.

Among the number of new subjects now being studied in the public schools none will have a greater effect on the next generation than the present method of teaching children to know themselves—to understand their own bodies and know how to care for them.

In this self-knowledge lies the whole secret of good health—know how to take care of the body, to avoid the use of unnatural and harmful drugs and above all, to recognize the first beginning of disease and strike it down by removing its cause.

The approach of disease should not be the cause of terror. It is not even a serious danger, if prompt action is taken and Nature is assisted by her simple remedies. But while the children at school secure this knowledge for their use when grown up, yet their health now depends upon their parents.

To those parents who have not had the same advantages as their children, LIFE PLANT continually tells the story of good health—not only for the children but for the parents themselves.

It explains the cause of disease, then plainly tells just how it may be cured.

LIFE PLANT appeals to reason—to common sense, because it is a natural medicine made solely from roots and herbs. It wards off disease, and drives out its cause—makes the blood pure and the body strong and healthy.

Your druggist sells LIFE PLANT. If not, write to the LIFE PLANT COMPANY, Canton, Ohio. Ask for free medical advice and valuable free booklet of advice on Good Health.

NEXT WEEK

MR. SAM FOREMAN WILL DEM-ONSTRATE RAILROAD IN-VENTION.

He Has Just Completed Another Attachment to His Collision
Preventive.

Mr. Sam Foreman the inventor, who has announced a practical demonstration of his patent to prevent head-end collision on railroads, has postponed the demonstration until next week on account of the weather and an attack of neuralgia from which he has been suffering this week.

The middle rails are already to be put down on the street car tracks from Fountain avenue to Wallace park, where the test will be made, and it will require but one and a half days to complete the job. Mr. Foreman intends starting Monday and will be prepared, if the weather is good to give his test by the middle of the week.

Mr. Foreman is continually improving on this invention and has lately added several new features. He has devised a means of telephoning from the engine cab to the train by means of his invention and has also arranged a "snap switch" which can be set by an operator at any station on the road and the train flagged within a mile or half a mile of the station. He can set the bell in the engine cab to ring half a mile away and will warn the engineer to stop before he reaches the station.

"I think I will show the railroad representatives something which will be worth their while to see, and I think I will set them to thinking," Mr. Foreman declared this morning. "I have something that is practical in every detail. I have looked for every possible obstacle to the proper working of my invention, and believe I have overcome each from the greatest to the smallest."

HAD TERRY GOING

HE WAS NOT IN IT WITH BAT-TLING NELSON.

The Fight Was Disappointing Up to the Fourth Round.

Philadelphia, March 15.—Battling Nelson had the advantage of Terry McGovern in a six-round bout here last night. For the first three rounds the fight was a disappointment. There were scarcely half a dozen solid blows struck, the men wrestling from one end of the ring to the other with the referee powerless to separate them. At the beginning of the fourth round the men began to fight as though they meant business and at the close of the fifth McGovern went to his corner in distress.

In the fifth Nelson did as he pleased with his opponent, and it is doubtful if McGovern could have stood the grueling for another round.

Nelson deserved the decision, but as no decisions are rendered when both men are on their feet, the fight is classed a draw.

Map for the City's Use.

The map the city intends to have made for the use of the city assessor and supervisors will be a bigger undertaking than many people imagine. It will require a great deal of time and work.

The first portion of the map will consist of that portion of the city between Monroe and Washington streets, and Ninth and the river, embracing the greater part of the business section. This will be the hardest part of the map to prepare, and also the most important part of it.

Work will begin as soon as City Engineer Washington can get well into his year's work.

An Incident Which Shows That it Pays to Have a City Make Good Appearance

It pays a city to present a good appearance, as well as it does a man. About the first thing that appeals to a stranger or visitor in its gates is its beauty, or lack of it.

As evidence of what benefits a city derives from making a good impression on a visitor the following news dispatch is interesting:

Richmond Va., March 13.—Andrew Carnegie called on Mayor McCarthy at his office this morning while the mayor and a committee were hunting the 20th century Croesus at the Main street depot. "Where is the mayor?" asked the little Scot of the mayor's young woman stenographer, "I'm Mr. Carnegie."

When the girl recovered from the shock she told him the mayor had gone to look for him.

"I'll wait," said Carnegie, and throwing his overcoat across a chair, entertained himself examining the mayor's library. When the mayor arrived, much embarrassed, Carnegie announced he had just found in one of the books a fact about Benjamin Franklin, that paid him for his visit to Richmond, and he proposed to use it in a speech.

Charles Lorraine spokesman of the party, addressed Mr. Carnegie in a plea for $10,000 for a library hall in the proposed new railroad Y. M. C. A. building, and before he was half through the man of millions declared: "You get the $10,000." Then turning to Mayor McCarthy Carnegie said: "This is too nice a city for a library costing only $100,000. I now make an offer of $200,000."

He complimented the city on its

THE POLICE

Are Now After Some Alleged Practical Jokers.

Detective Will Baker and Patrol Driver John Austin are looking for the perpetrators of an alleged joke which they, as well as several well known young ladies of the South Side, were made the victims of several days ago.

A party of young ladies went to a fortune teller's house on the North Side to have their fortunes told. Some of their young men friends decided to play a joke on the young ladies and telephoned the police station that "Something was wrong" at a certain house on the North Side, giving the number of the fortune teller's residence.

Detective Baker rode out in the patrol wagon and Driver John Austin stood guard at one door while the other officer went in by the rear, closing in on the party of girls.

A great deal of excitement was created in the neighborhood, and the unsuspecting young ladies were as badly frightened as the officers were angry, at the so-called joke. They are now trying to ascertain who played the prank as they believe that "he who laughs last laughs best."
